Group Port of Grenaa uses cookies for web analysis to enhance your experience of our website. Cookies are stored on your computer or your device to detect irregularities on our website, such as accessibility errors. Below you can read more about the cookies we use and how to block and delete them.

What are cookies?
Cookies are small text files that are stored on your computer or your device to help us identify you as a unique visitor. Our cookies don't contain personal information or viruses. Virtually all websites use cookies.

How to block and delete cookies
If you want to block cookies from port-of-grenaa.com, you can – in most browsers – select "advanced cookie settings" under "internet options" and add port-of-grenaa.com to the list of websites from which you want to block cookies. There you can also delete individual cookies, or all the cookies stored on your computer or your device.

Be aware that if you set your browser to block cookies, some functionalities may not work on various web-sites. If you don't want your visit to be registered by Google Analytics, you can install Google's Opt-Out Browser Add-on. Be aware that your visits on other websites that use Google Analytics won't be registered either if you install Google's Opt-Out Browser Add-on.

If you want to delete cookies, there is a guide at: https://privacypolicies.com/blog/how-to-delete-cookies/

Why does Group Port of Grenaa use cookies?
• Cookies remember your choices, such as if you have accepted cookies or not.
• Cookies let you navigate around our website and let us tailor the content to fit your needs. We use both our own cookies and Google Analytics. We collect anonymous data concerning your visit, including duration, what pages you visit, if your computer or your device has visited our website before and what browser and operating system you use.
• We also use third-party services from Google. Google collects data concerning your browser, IP address and the pages you visit at port-of-grenaa.com. This data is saved in your Google Account if you are online at the time of visit. Group Port of Grenaa disclaims any liability for what activity and info is saved in your Google Account.

Processing of personal data
We collect and process the following data: A unique ID and technical data concerning your computer or your device, your IP address, your geographic location and what pages you visit. Furthermore, the following data is processed if you have given your explicit consent and if you have entered the data yourself: Name, phone number, address, e-mail and company. Such data is needed when you send for information.
Personal data is never given to a third party unless you give express authority to do so. Personal data is used to carry out the service that the data was collected for. Personal data is also used to learn more about you and other users of our website. This includes studies and analyses aimed at improving our products, services and technologies. Processing of personal data is warranted by the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR).

Contact regarding personal data

You have the right to access the personal data we are processing regarding to you, and you can also withdraw your consent to the processing of your personal data.

If you wish to withdraw your consent, or if you find that Group Port of Grenaa processes wrong or misleading data about you, you can request to have your data corrected or deleted. If so, please contact us at info@port-of-grenaa.com, and we will respond to such a request as soon as possible, typically within 10 business days.

If you find that Group Port of Grenaa processes data contrary to the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), you can file a complaint to Datatilsynet (the Danish Data Protection Agency).
